

The Market Abuse Regulation and what it means for listed companies

Speakers' biographies

Lucy Fergusson

Partner, London

Tel: +44 20 7456 3386

lucy.fergusson@linklaters.com

Lucy has extensive experience in corporate and securities law, mergers and acquisitions and domestic and international capital raising.

She currently focuses primarily on corporate advisory matters including advising leading companies on corporate governance, disclosure requirements and securities regulation.

She has responsibility for the management of knowledge and learning within Linklaters and often contributes to books and periodicals and speaks at conferences on topics related to equity capital markets and corporate governance. She is a member of the Company Law Committees of the Law Society of England and Wales and of the City of London Law Society and is a member of the Companies Committee of the Confederation of British Industry.

Michael Honan

Partner, London

Tel: +44 20 7456 5488

michael.honan@linklaters.com

Michael is a partner in the corporate department specialising in public and private mergers and acquisitions, corporate restructurings, public offerings and joint ventures. He also provides advice to a number of Linklaters' listed clients in relation to their ongoing legal and regulatory compliance.

The Market Abuse Regulation and what it means for listed companies

Speakers' biographies

James Wootton

Partner, London

Tel: +44 20 7456 3671

james.wootton@linklaters.com

James is a Corporate partner based in London who advises corporates, financial institutions and sponsors on a wide range of corporate, corporate finance and commercial matters. James has a particular focus on equity capital markets transactions..

Rasmus Berglund

Managing Associate, London

Tel: +44 20 7456 5795

rasmus.berglund@linklaters.com

Rasmus is a managing associate in the Employment and Incentives team in London. With over 10 years of experience and having worked in both London and New York, Rasmus specialises primarily in UK and US employee incentives. Main areas of practice include design and implementation of a wide range of employee share plans and executive incentives both in the UK and internationally. Rasmus advises on key related matters such as securities laws, tax and administration as well as incentives arrangements in the context of mergers and acquisitions. He also advises on all aspects of remuneration regulation within the financial services sector.

Lucy Reeve

Senior Associate, London

Tel: +44 20 7456 3459

lucy.reeve@linklaters.com

Lucy Reeve is a Senior Associate in the Corporate Department. She has particular expertise in company law and the continuing obligations that apply to listed companies. Lucy coordinates our EU-wide working group on the Market Abuse Regulation and has been closely involved with monitoring its development and advising on its implications for listed companies.